

INTERNSHIPS AT THE LEAGUE: URBAN OMNIBUS/DIGITAL PROJECT ASSISTANT

Interns work closely with the editors of Urban Omnibus in a collaborative work environment and perform a wide variety of tasks, including general support for the Architectural League of New York's programming and activities. We ask that interns work a minimum of 3 days per week and are flexible with their schedule. A 3-month time commitment is required.

RESPONSIBILITIES INCLUDE:

- Preparing material for online publication, including layout, editing, and fact checking
- Researching future features and events; staying on top of news feeds and incoming story ideas
- Assisting with administrative tasks such as database management
- Coordinating outreach and audience-building efforts

Interns are strongly encouraged to write, illustrate, and/or develop pitches for content for Urban Omnibus in collaboration with the editors. Interns are expected to become familiar with all of the Architectural League's programming and to attend League events.

Working for Urban Omnibus is a great opportunity to acquire wide-ranging experience in journalism, new media, audio/video production, architecture, and urbanism as well as exposure to curatorial, editorial, and non-profit management.

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants must have strong communication, organization, and writing skills and an interest in design, architecture, and urbanism. Experience in writing, editing, graphic design, mapping, or audio/video production is preferred.

Workday hours are flexible but a minimum of three days a week is required. Interns must commit to a minimum of 3 months.

Interns will receive a stipend and unlimited monthly MetroCard during their internship.

The League also supports internships for academic credit.

APPLICATION

Please fill out this form and include a cover letter, current resume, and contact information for two references. A four-page writing sample is required for all applicants.

ABOUT

Urban Omnibus is the Architectural League's online publication dedicated to defining and enriching the culture of citymaking. We explore projects and perspectives in urbanism, architecture, art, policy, and activism – tried and tested in New York City – that offer new ways of understanding, representing, and improving urban life and landscape worldwide.

The Architectural League is a non-profit organization dedicated to advancing the art of architecture, by promoting excellence and innovation and by fostering community and discussion in architecture, urbanism, and related disciplines. We present the work and ideas of the world's most interesting and influential architects and designers through lectures, exhibitions, and publications, in print and online. We identify and encourage talented young designers through competitions, grants, exhibitions, and publications. And we help shape the future of our built environment by stimulating debate and provoking design thinking about the critical issues of our time.
